MISSISSIPPI READING FAIR

The purpose of the Mississippi Reading Fair Guidelines is to provide Reading Fair coordinators, students, and parents with directions for conducting and participating in a reading fair. These guidelines and resources must be used when submitting information for all levels of competition.

This document includes:

- alignment to the College-and Career-Ready Standards,
- guidelines for creating award-winning Reading Fair projects,
- judging rubrics to use at all levels of competition,
- and connection to MS CCRS in English Language Arts, World Languages, Early Childhood, and Visual Arts.

PURPOSE AND MS CCRS CONNECTIONS

The purpose of the competition is to provide students in grades PreK-12 the opportunity to share their favorite fictional, nonfiction narrative, or informational book through a storyboard or digital media display. With the implementation of the Mississippi College-and Career-Readiness Standards (MS CCRS) for English Language Arts, World Languages, Visual Arts, and Early Childhood, an emphasis has been placed on student mastery of the skills and concepts necessary to read complex texts at each grade level, write texts using evidence, and create presentations that demonstrate imagination and effective use of various materials to express ideas. MS CCRS also places value on reading both literary and informational texts. In support of the MS CCRS, the goal of the Mississippi Reading Fair is to enhance and encourage reading at all grade levels and to allow students to collaborate with their peers. As a result of participating in this process, students will experience a deeper enjoyment from reading and develop a lifelong love of reading.

There are four levels of competition: Level 1 - School, Level 2 - District, Level 3 - Regional, and Level 4 - State. Only first place winners in each division proceed to the next round of competition. Over 1,400 students compete regionally each year. This is significant because these students represent the several thousands of students who compete at both the school and district levels. The Mississippi Department of Education strives to motivate all students to read as they soar towards excellence.

These guidelines have been established to create a uniform procedure and provide resources for school, district, and regional level Reading Fairs.

READING FAIR CATEGORIES

- Students in grades 3-12 have the opportunity to share their favorite nonfiction book. All students deciding to do so are to compete in the Individual Divisions, within their specified grade group (Divisions G-I). All other entries should only represent Literary Fiction books.

NOTE: Remember the school's librarian is an excellent resource for determining if the book selected is indeed fictional. BOOKS DO NOT HAVE TO BE ON READING LEVEL. STUDENTS HAVE FREE CHOICE IN SELECTING A BOOK FOR THE READING FAIR.

- Group/Family Division projects should portray a book appropriate to the age of the student(s). The student(s) should be very knowledgeable about the book's story elements and should have an active part in the construction of the display. Family and Group Divisions will be judged closely on whether the project shows work appropriate for the age level of the student.

NOTE: Each student is limited to participating in only one project. Each Group Division project must have 2 to 3 students. If a group project has students in various grades, the project should be placed in the division of the oldest student. The projects should reflect the creative and originality of the students in the group.

- English Language Learners can create bilingual presentations to represent their native language as well as English. Each presentation element must be translated into English for judging. Elements not translated will have points deducted.

STORYBOARD PROJECTS

Size

- A standard tri-fold project board that unfolds to be approximately 36" H x 48" W.

NOTE: Boards that do not meet the size requirements will be disqualified, even if they proceed to the state-level competition.

Display/Safety

- Use the checklists as a guide for creating the project.
- Identifying information (name of the student(s), category and division, student's grade level, homeroom teacher's name, school and district name) should be labeled on the back of the storyboard. If any identifying information is placed on the front of the storyboard, the project will be disqualified.
- Only students may present the projects during the judging - even for the family projects. If a student needs accommodations, please submit the Students Needing Accommodations Form for additional adult supervision

- Storyboards should be colorful and interesting. Models, shadow boxes, and illustrations that fit in the middle of the display are allowed. The total project should meet the required the width, depth or height of the standing display board (approximately 36" W x 14" D x 36" H of table space). There cannot be items protruding from the back or top of the board.
- No items should hang over the edge of the table or be placed on the floor. However, students may hold or wear items that coordinate with the project, if desired. Items used for the project are not to be alive, valuable, or dangerous, including dry ice.
- Items on the project board may be handwritten or typed. Younger students may require assistance in writing, typing, spelling, cutting, etc. This is permissible and part of the learning process. See Divisions A, B, J, K, and L regarding Family and Group Divisions.

NOTE: Storyboard content should match the age, grade level, and ability of the students presenting the project. Students do not have to bring or display the book during the competition.

- Students and teachers are encouraged to accompany their projects throughout all levels of competition; however, the student's presence is not required. All projects will be fairly judged regardless of the student's attendance.
- Projects must be able to withstand several levels of competitions to prevent the student from rebuilding the project at each level. The intent of this competition is for the same project to be judged at different levels.
- Electrical cords are not allowed at any level of competition due to the potential danger they pose in the aisles.
- No food or drinks can be used with the projects. Empty packages may be used as part of the display or on the display board.

LITERARY FICTION

NOTE: Religious narratives (including retellings or alternate versions) fall into this category.

INFORMATIONAL NONFICTION

The first component of informational nonfiction is genre. Genres of nonfiction can be identified by one single factor: the intent or purpose of the writing. On the other hand, genres of fiction blend together. For instance, a fantasy story can have characteristics of an adventure story, but not all adventure stories are fantasies. Genres of nonfiction are more clearly defined than fiction. They explain the intent of the author or the purpose of the material.

The five main genres of nonfiction are:

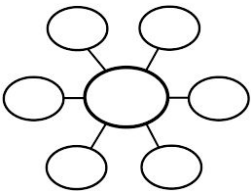

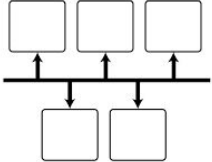

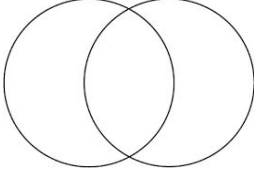

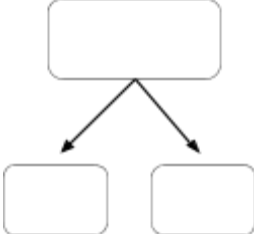

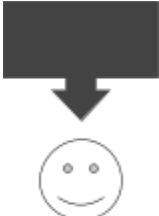

1. Instructional: Describes how something is done or made.
2. Explanatory: Tells what happened or how something works, with defined reasons.
3. Report: Tells how things are discovered.
4. Discussion: Looks at both sides of an idea and makes a decision.
5. Opinion/Argument: Decides on a point-of-view and has reasons to support the view.

Students should be aware of the variety and format of the structures of nonfictional text. Some structures or formats of nonfiction can be seen within a variety of text. For example, a speech can be instructional, explanatory, a report, an opinion, or a discussion. On the contrary, a recipe is considered instructional. This is one thing that makes nonfictional text so unique. The structure can take on different tones and formats depending on the author's intent.

Students may select from the following nonfiction formats to complete literary competition projects:

- Autobiographies
- Biographies
- Book/movie reviews
- Consumer Reports articles
- Debates
- Editorials
- Essays
- Interviews
- Journals
- Observations
- Presentations
- Proposals
- Reports
- Speeches

Abraham Lincoln Walks at Midnight

In Springfield, Illinois

IT is portentous, and a thing of state
That here at midnight, in our little town
A mourning figure walks, and will not rest,
Near the old court-house, pacing up and down.

Or by his homestead, or by shadowed yards
He lingers where his children used to play,
Or through the market, on the well-worn stones
He stalks until the dawn-stars burn away.

HOW TO HOST READING FAIR

PREPARATION

Set a date and place for the Reading Fair. You will need to find a location that can accommodate the display boards of your students and remain open long enough for judging.

- Calculate how much table space you will need. Each display board will be 36" wide. Four boards, back-to-back, can fit on a six-foot table.
- Determine which locations will accommodate the appropriate number of tables.
- Set the date that works with the school calendar.
- Make a map of where the tables will go in the room and how they will be numbered.
- Identify the number of volunteers that will be needed to help with registration, set up, award ceremony, and clean up.
- Gather clipboards, pencils, name tags, and rules for judging.
- Print check-in station signs, registration sheets, and table tags.

JUDGES

Allow 30 minutes for judging orientation and score discussion. Be cautious not to exceed judging for more than 2 to 3 hours. There should be at least 3 judges per category to help with tiebreakers. Judges can judge multiple categories to help keep down the number of judges needed.

SETUP

Set up the registration area near the entrance, and stock it with registration lists and supplies. Create alphabetical signs to help students/parents/teachers check in quickly.

- Check in each student.
- Give each student his or her division number and a map.
- Direct student to the general area where they should set up.

Use table signs or tags to help guide students to the right destination. The table tags will have the Division letter and project number listed. There should be aisle signs to help guide students and judges as well. Bathroom and concession signs should be posted as well. Organize digital media presentations together and storyboard presentations together in the mixed divisions.

CHAPERONES

Volunteers or chaperones should direct students to their location and help where needed. Chaperones should monitor the room routinely to prevent damage to projects. There should be a volunteer for every three tables.

AWARD CEREMONY

If you are giving out participation certificates, have these completed before the fair. If only winners are given certificates and/or ribbons, have the information completed minus the student name. Have a volunteer to help with the completion of the awards prior to the ceremony.

- Total the score on each sheet
- File each score sheet by award category
- Once judging is done, sort score sheets in each award category from high to low
- Create a official list of winners
- Complete certificates and present awards

STUDENT ETIQUETTE

Students may bring pillows to sit on while waiting to be judged. Coordinators need to explain to students that when a judge approaches the display, the student needs to stand up and talk with the judge. Students need to stay with their presentation unless using the restroom or visiting the concession stand. Students do not need to leave the Reading Fair judging area. Any student found to be bullying other contestants will be disqualified and asked to leave.

- Before judging begins, please make sure that the Judge's Number is written in the correct space on the rubric.
- Before judging begins, please make sure the participant's number is already written on each sheet for a particular division. For example, Division A will have participant sheets A-1, A-2, A-3, and A-4 in one set.
- Before judging begins, match the participant's number in the upper right hand corner on the rubric with the participant's number on the table in front of the student's board.
- Please limit judging to one judge per student/project at a time.
- Judges do not have to tally points. Individuals have been assigned to do this.
- As a judge completes one set of sheets (one division) for assigned projects, please turn in at the registration table. Once Reading Fair staff has verified that all fields are complete, return to judging the next division, ensuring that you follow the same procedures for judging and returning sheets for that division. As each set is complete, the Reading Fair staff will take the score sheets for tabulation.

NOTE: If a judge is reassigned to new divisions, please make certain the change is indicated on the judge's assignment sheet. This may happen in the event the judge knows the student(s), resides in the same local area as the student(s), or where there is a possibility of conflicts of interest.

TIEBREAKER JUDGES

Usually, judges are breaking ties between two students in a particular division. In the case of a tie, use the rubric marked "Tiebreaker".

- In the upper right corner of the Tiebreaker Rubric, indicate the participant number of the students whose boards that are being judged. Judges can locate this information on the card positioned in front of the student's project and/or on their name tags. This is a letter and number. (For example, A-1).
- Judges do not have to tally points. Individuals have been assigned to do this.
- Once you have judged the boards, return to the registration table or judging room and hand the sets to an individual working at the registration table or in the judge's room.

THINGS TO KEEP IN MIND WHILE JUDGING

Interaction with the participants competing in the Reading Fair is strongly encouraged. In an effort to maintain consistency with each participant, only ask the three questions found in the gray shaded box on the judging rubric.

Literary:

1. Which character was your favorite? Why?
2. How did you (or you and the rest of your group) decide upon the design of the project?
3. What was the best part of the story? What part of the book, if any, did you not like?

Informational:

1. Is the subject/topic something you are interested in or want to know more about? Explain.
2. How did you (or you and the rest of your group or family) decide upon the design of the project?
3. What was the best part of the story? What part of the book, if any, did you not like?
