Due to severe cold weather in the forecast, Mobile County Public Schools is offering students uniform flexibility on Thursday and Friday. All students are encouraged to dress appropriately for the weather, with the exception being any clothing that would be considered pajamas. We look forward to all of our students returning to school on Thursday. Happy New Year!

All Mobile County Public Schools will open on time Tuesday. We have been in contact with Emergency Management Agency officials who tell us it will be rainy and cold, but they do not expect the accumulation of ice or snow this far south. Our bus route supervisors will be out on the roads early to confirm this. Please have your children dress warmly tomorrow and drive safely.

█ If MCPSS really cared about us, they wouldn't send us to school. Are you that set on your school system competition? Keep us out of school, and we'll have a better school spirit, which equals better numbers on your reports. The students at Citronelle High School do not approve of your decision, and now our hate for you has grown. Even the parents complain, and they pay the tax dollars that keep the schools afloat. Think about that!

█ I think they just completely forget about us up here in North Mobile County... we are actually expected to get snow and our principle doesn't allow any clothing other school attire... So we will be freezing our Burt's off up here...
