Non-Participation Due to Significant Medical Emergency Form

(Due in OSA on June 1, 2020, no electronic submission allowed)

Under the Education Secondary Education Act (ESSA), the U.S. Department of Education has adopted a policy that allows students who are unable to participate in state assessments due to a significant medical emergency to be excluded from participation rate calculations.

In rare instances, a student may be unable to participate in any part of the assessment due to a significant and documented medical or mental emergency. Examples of significant medical emergency includes a serious car accident, hospitalization, severe trauma, mental health crisis that is dangerous to self or others, or placement in hospice care. All medically fragile students are expected to participate in the statewide assessment unless a significant and documented medical emergency exists in addition to medical fragility.

Criteria for a Significant Medical Emergency: For a student to qualify for the Significant Medical Emergency exemption from the participation rate calculation, all the following must be true:

- The situation was rare and unique in that the student was unable, for medical reason, to participate in any part of the assessment.
- The significant medical emergency was due to a medical condition such as a serious car accident, hospitalization, severe trauma, mental health crisis that was dangerous to self or others, or placement in hospice care.
- The student was unable, due to the significant medical emergency, to receive academic instruction during the testing period.

The medical emergency must be documented by the student’s licensed physician on the Non-Participation Due to a Significant Medical Emergency Form. (Due to HIPPA, the parent may need to assist in obtaining this documentation.) The signature of the parent/legal guardian is required for submission.
